CORAM ; V.G.PALSHIKAR &
MRS. RANJANA DESAI, JJ.

DATED; 16TH AUGUST, 2004.

P.C.;

1. By this petition, the petitioner challenges the order passed by the 2nd Appellate Committee upholding the earlier orders. There is no legal or jurisdictional error in this order. The only grievance made is, this was passed exparte on the first date of hearing, notice of which was duly received by the petitioner.

2. In reply to this notice of personal hearing, it is categorically stated by the petitioner that " we would therefore request you to consider our case on the above two points." These two points mentioned in the communication dated 20th March 2003 are considered by the Second Appellate Authority. There is therefore no reason to interfere. The petition is accordingly dismissed.
